London, January 14.
Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

Constantinople, December 2.

TH E Divan is frequently assembled, to deliberate on the present Situation of Affairs in Persia, and on the Russian Frontiers; at all these Meetings of the Divan, the Captain Bafhaw, or Admiral of the Grand Signior's Fleet, has constantly been summoned to attend. Our last Accounts from Persia relate, that our Forces have almost subdued the Province of Shirvan, and that 'tis expected they will shortly be in Possession of Isfahan: 'Tis also said, we have subdued the Province of Daguestan in Georgia; that the Army only wants the heavy Artillery to undertake the Siege of Andreoff, and that 'tis hoped we shall entirely dislodge the Muscovites from their Conquests in those Parts. The Russian Resident not having appeared here for some Time past, confirms the Opinion of his being secretly withdrawn into his own Country. The Express that was last sent to the Czar's Court is not yet returned, but is impatiently expected, to know the Czar's final Resolution concerning the Demand made him by the Grand Signior, to know whether his Czarist Majesty will abandon all his Conquests in Persia: If not, the Sultan is determined to declare War against him. To which Purpose, our Forces on the Rivers Pruth, Boristhenes, and Nier, are augmented to 120,000 Men, besides 1000 Tartars that are divided into separate Bodies for the Convenience of Forage. Orders are sent the Bafhaws commanding in Nizza and in Albania, to cause all the Troops they can spare, to march towards the River Pruth, whither 4000 Janizaries have been sent within this Fortnight past from Adrianople; however, the Standard of the Horse will not be set up till the Grand-Vizier's Baggage is ready, he being determined to Head the Army in Person which is to act against the Russians. Twenty small Gallies laden with all kinds of Ammunition and Stores of War, were sent from hence 22d past, to be transported to Asoph.

Petersbourg, Dec. 17. On the 13th Instant, all the Foreign Ministers were again invited to the great Hall for Foreign Affairs, where, in Presence of his Czarist Majesty, who is now perfectly recovered of his late Illness, a longer Conference was held on publick Affairs than has happen'd since his Majesty's Return from Persia. On the 15th, an Express arrived here from the Marquis de Bonac, the French Ambassadour at the Porte, who immediately delivered his Dispatches to M. Campredon, the French Envoy here; upon which the said Envoy was Yesterday Morning in Conference with our Ministers for the Space of two Hours. 'Tis given out, that the Porte is still inclined to continue in Peace with us, provided the Czar would declare, that he will restore the Prince of Daguestan to his Dominions, and make no farther Attempts in Persia: But it seems that his Czarist Majesty is fully resolved to pursue the Schemes he has already formed. M. de Campredon has also received an Express from his Court with Dispatches of Moment, and 'tis said that he is to follow our Court to Moscow, whither several of the Regency and the Privy Council, as also Prince Menzikoff, with his Son, are actually gone. The Regiment of Horse commanded by the latter, together with the rest of his Majesty's Life-Guards, and two Regiments of Foot, are also marched that Way, in Order to appear under Arms at their Majesties Entry into Olonitz. His Majesty has ordered Prince Gallizyn to put off the March of the Forces under his Command, designing to review them at his Arrival at Moscow, where two Natives of Persia have been lately taken up for keeping Correspondence with Miri-Ways. Several Treaties of Commerce which are now negotiating, are carried on here with all possible Diligence. The Commissioners of the Oriental Company in particular, are hard at Work to bring their Affairs to a Conclusion before the Czar's Departure from hence.

Vienna, Jan. 1. The Russian Minister Lenzinsky having been asked by our Minister, whether it be true, as it is reported, that the Czar has promised the Duke of Mecklenbourg all manner of Assistance, has made the following Answer, That as far as he knows, his Czarist Majesty had exhorted the said Duke to comply with his Imperial Majesty's Mandates. Since the Arrival of the Hereditary Prince of Lorraine, his Imperial Majesty has nominated Count de Coventzel to have the chief Direction and Care of the said Prince's Education, for which he is allowed 12000 Florins per Annum by the Emperour, and 8000 more by the Duke of Lorraine, by whom he was proposed to the Emperour for that Place. 'Tis expected, that her Imperial Majesty will lye in about March next, for which reason no Festivals will be kept till six Weeks after her lying-in, that then she may partake of them. Count Collovrat, Vice-Chancellor of Bohemia is daily expected here with the Scheme made at Prague, for a Union of the Bohemian Trade with the East-India Company of the Austrian Netherlands, and it is not doubted but the same will take Effect. This Court has assured the Dutch Minister, that the two Millions which his Imperial Majesty has borrowed of the States General, shall be paid soon after New-Year's Day.

Hambourg, Jan. 11. It is said, that the Imperial Minister Count de Freytag has Orders from the Emperour's Court relating to Count Rantzau, and to wait a final Determination concerning that Process before he sets out from hence on his Journey to Vienna. It is certain, that at the Instances of the Prussian Court and one other, that the Dispute about the Succession to the Duchy of Ploen, is on the Point of being adjusted agreeably to the Intention of the Court of Denmark, in favour of Count Carlstein; for, it is to that purpose, that M. de Holzen, the Danish Envoy at Ratisbon, has lately sent his Secretary from thence to Copenhagen, with the Project of Accommodation agreed upon by Prussia and the Court its Ally, and presented in Form to the Imperial Commissioners at Ratisbon: It consists principally of a Grant to the Duke of Holstein-Rethwick of a good Sum of Money for his departing from his Right of Succession, and a considerable Appanage allowed him during his Life.

Hague, Jan. 21. M. Vander Meer has taken Leave of their High Mightinesses, the Foreign Ministers, and others of Distinction, and sets out this Day or To-morrow for the Court of Madrid to reside there in Quality of Ambassador from this Republick. Advices are received here this Day from Cambray, relating, that the Acts of Investitures were arrived there from Vienna, and that the Congress is beginning to open.

Bristol, Jan. 11. Came in the Suckey from Antegoa for London; Anne Sloop from the Canaries; John Pink, and St. Francis from Cadiz.

Dover, Jan. 12. The outward-bound are still here. Last Friday came in the George, Captain Webb, from Cowes, for London, whose Master was thrown over-board by the Boom and drowned. The Ship coming into the Downs ran on a Scooner, and the Mate and Boy got into the Scooner, leaving only a Passenger on board. The Ship ran also on another Vessel, and afterwards either sunk or was drove away. The Mate has been in the Isle of Thanet to see for her, but cannot find her.

Gravesend, Jan. 12. Passed by the William and Mary from Ostend; John and Mary from Malaga; Welcome from New-England; Dorothy from St. Christopher's; Codrington from Barcelona; St. Joseph from Bilbao; and the Cartwright from Carolina.
